To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is my personal recommendation for Julie Mira

I have been one of Julie's supervisors from September 2012 to the end of her internship with Rexel in February 2013 and liaised with her on a bi-weekly basis on the US PR and communications strategy to ensure alignment with the Group PR plan.

I found her to be consistently pleasant and polite, tackling all assignments with dedication, enthusiasm and a smile.

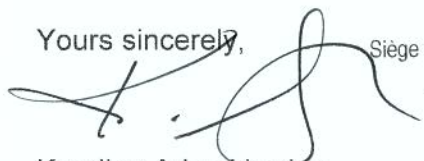

During her time at Rexel, Julie developed a strong understanding of Rexel's business model and strategic priorities to ensure the successful execution of key PR and communications functions, including;

- the development of a strong network of internal contacts in the US to support key initiatives
- the development of case studies for internal and external communication
- the filming and editing of a video at a corporate event for use in training
- the conducting of a questionnaire and short study
- the drafting of editorial content for use with the media and for internal communication
- the drafting of a Twitter proposal
- acting as the liaison with the our US PR agency
- regularly reporting/providing feedback on communications activities

I highly recommend Julie for employment in a communications function. Above all else her energy, enthusiasm and team player spirit make her a valuable asset to any organization.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any further questions about Julie's performance.

Yours sincerely,

Karolina Adamkiewicz
