

Basketball betting strategies and tips

Betting on basketball occupies the second place in the ranking of the most popular sports with bookmakers. First place, of course, remains with soccer. Soccer and basketball betting strategies do not differ much. But there are secrets from the professionals, which give the opportunity to earn good money.

Events on which you can bet in a basketball game:

The outcome of the game

As with any game sport, in basketball you can bet on the outcome of the game. Bets are placed on the outcome in regulation time or taking into account the extra time. Also in basketball, you can bet on the outcome by quarters. Tie results are almost never encountered.

Passing

An elimination tournament is not uncommon in the basketball world. When you do not want to take the risk and try to guess the results of the games individually, experts advise betting on passing. In this case, it is enough to guess the winner of the pair.

Statistics by quarters

A quarter in basketball is like a small game. The coach uses different strategies, plays combinations and makes substitutions. The fatigue of the players and the emotions accumulated during the previous quarters also affect the result. Therefore, often in the bookmaker's <https://1xbetcm.com> line you can catch a bet not just on the outcome of the quarter, but also on the comparison of the performance of the quarters: more points scored, more fouls committed, and so on.

Betting on handicaps

Betting on handicaps is a very popular bet among advanced players. If the teams are very different in class, the handicap value can be as high as P1 (+35). Equal teams are given a small handicap: P1 (+0.5). To use handicap betting wisely, you need to see the favorite in the match and estimate the number of points that each of the teams will score.

Total bets

Another type of bet for advanced players - betting on the total. It comes in three types: TB 184, TM 197 and in the range 153-172. Total bets are taken on the number of points scored, free throws made, fouls earned, three-pointers made and so on. To make money on this type of betting, it is enough to know the average performance of the teams individually and look at the statistics of head-to-head encounters.

Live betting

Live basketball betting is one of the riskiest bets. Sure, you can make predictions on the number of points scored or free throws made. But the game is so dynamic and unpredictable that it is better not to rely on luck.

Corridor Strategy

This betting strategy can be used in many sports, but most conveniently in basketball. It is no secret that bookmakers estimate the performance of teams differently. One bookmaker may give odds 2 on a bet with a handicap P1 (+7,5), and another - odds 2 on a bet with a handicap P2 (-3,5). This layout is called a corridor.

It is necessary to bet on both P1, and on P2 for the same amount of money. One of the bets for sure will win. In this case the amount of bets multiplied by two and the balance will be the original amount. If both bets pass at once, the bank will grow twice. It is impossible to lose.

The probability of passing bets on the corridor strategy is higher, if the corridor is "wide". As events, you can choose not only a head start, but also a total, for example.

Odds strategy by quarters (even / odd)

In basketball betting, it is very convenient to use quarters. This is like small matches within a match: the teams play the same, but the statistics give out different ones.

The essence of the strategy is to catch an even or odd in at least one quarter. Before the match it is necessary to choose: even or odd, and bet on the first quarter. If the bet played - great. If not, it is necessary to make an increased bet on the same outcome, but in the second quarter.

And so until the desired outcome falls out. It is very rare that in a basketball game in all quarters, either even or odd. Usually the outcomes alternate, which means that the winnings are guaranteed.

Live Basketball Betting Strategy

Despite the fact that the advice of professional players warns against live betting in basketball, there is still an option to earn. It is necessary to choose matches with a pronounced favorite and an outsider. Before the match it is necessary to bet on the underdog. For example, the bookie gives odds $P_2 = 10$. It is possible to bet 500 rubles.

In the first quarter, as a rule, a struggle ensues. The outsider may equal the favorite in points or even take the lead. At this point the odds on the favorite may increase. It is worth calculating the odds and the amount of bets in advance, which will allow to repel the pre-match bet and come out in the black. The amount of the second bet should not exceed the winnings on the first bet, in case the outsider still wins.

So, the first bet was for the sum of 500r, with odds of 10. That means the possible winnings will be $5000$ - 500$ = 4500$$. This amount can be used for the second bet. Suitable odds on the favorite, starting with 1.2. In this case the winnings will be $5400$ - 4500$ = 900$$. Such winnings will cover the amount of the first bet and allow you to stay in the black.
