

Which Emotional Support Dog Breeds are the Most Affectionate: Guide - 2022

It is a well-known fact that cats and dogs make the best ESA. They are small, affectionate (mostly), easy to travel with, and give you no trouble.

Well, I, for one, am going to argue in favor of dogs. We all know they are far more affectionate than cats.

They love us, unworthy humans, no matter what.

But even among dogs, there are certain breeds that are more affectionate than the rest.

So, if you want an affectionate ESA then you should definitely opt for a dog but the question is which one?

The thing about dogs is that it becomes hard to choose between them. They are all so adorable.

But I have made this difficult task easy for you by compiling a list of the best dog breeds.

Breed #1: Golden Retriever

Who doesn't love a Golden Retriever? Even people who don't like dogs love the golden retriever.

There is something about its appearance that brings about feelings of warmth and affection.

Not to mention the dog itself is very affectionate. It's excitable and just loves to be around you and cuddle up to you.

This one is one of the best is that you can ever have.

Breed #2: Labrador Retriever

A Labrador comes second to only the king dog: the golden retriever. Otherwise, there is absolutely nothing in this dog that can be considered second-best.

Much like the Golden Retriever, the Labrador is made for giving (and receiving) affection.

This is one loyal breed of dog and a labrador's devotion to its human companion can never be questioned. Ever.

You will note this in their affectionate stance towards human beings in general.

If you want to adopt a dog as your ESA, you require a legitimate esa letter. But if you don't know what an emotional support dog letter looks like, you should contact an online service to provide you with an ESA letter sample. The sample letter will wipe the ambiguities out of your mind regarding the ESA letter.

Breed #3: Brussels Griffon

This is one excitable pup. A Brussels Griffon is a very small dog. But don't judge this breed by its size.

What this dog lacks in size, it makes it up for in its excitable nature.

This kind of dog will always want to be close to you. Always desire affection. Always want to play and have fun?

Don't even think that you will have any personal space left if you keep this one as an ESA.

Breed #4: Cavalier King Charles Spaniel

The beautiful eyes of this dog are enough to make you fall in love with it. You take one look at this one and you will be running to get your Emotional Support Dog Letter. No question about that. These dogs are just that gorgeous.

But if you don't care about that then you should know that this type of dog is super affectionate.

They could spend the entire day cuddling and not get tired.

Breed #5: Old English Sheepdog

If you want a dog that is easy-going then this is the one for you.

Aside from its gorgeous and luscious locks, the best quality of an Old English Sheepdog is that it will do whatever you want it to do.

So, if you want affection then that is exactly what you will get from this breed of dog.

Breed #6: Chihuahua

Just like the Brussels Griffon, the Chihuahua also has a lot of energy packed up in its little size.

They may be the smallest of the dogs but that does not mean that their hearts are small as well.

Quite the opposite really.

A Chihuahua will follow you to the ends of the earth just so that they can get a little bit of affection from you.

As you have an ESA then you definitely require an ESA letter if you don't how to get an esa letter then search for ESA letter service online The purpose of Emotional support animals is to support you in terms of emotions. Emotional support animals provide love and companionship which helps you to perform well in your life. However, there is a prerequisite for owning an emotional support animal. You must have an ESA letter for housing.

Breed #7: Collie

The gentleness and loving nature of a Collie ensure that they are among the best pets.

Their sensitive nature makes sure that they make fabulous ESAs. Collies are so sensitive that people say that they have a sixth sense which tells them all about what their human companion needs.

The fact that they are devoted to humans is just an added bonus.

The ESA Letter!

So, if you want an ESA letter then let me give you a warning that will help. Some people will try to sell you an esa letter for dog but you will have to reject them. Because the certification bit is a lie.

The thing is that some online websites try to scam you but you need to remember that the only thing you need is an ESA letter.

Not a certificate. No registration. Just a letter.
